QUOTE OF THE MONTH

"SELF-PRESERVATION IS NOT SELFISH"

Important news to parents and guardians! Happy July! Summer is here!!!! I want to inform you that Renoxx Caregivers provides ABA therapy! ABA stands for applied behavior analysis. It is a scientific approach to understanding and changing behavior, particularly in individuals with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) or other developmental disabilities. Some benefits include...

1. Improved Social Skills: ABA can help individuals with ASD develop social skills, such as communication and interaction.
2. Reduced problem behaviors: ABA can help reduce problem behaviors, such as aggression and self-injury.
3. Increased independence: ABA can help individuals with ASD develop skills that promote independence, such as self-care and daily living skills.

Overall, ABA is a highly effective treatment approach for individuals with ASD and other developmental disabilities. Its focus on positive reinforcement, data-driven decision making, and Individualized treatment makes it a valuable tool for promoting meaningful behavior change.
